::DISCUSSION QUESTIONS::

- 1. What are some of the ways that patriarchy plays out in different organizing campaigns and/or radical spaces that you've been a part of?
- 2. What are some of the benefits of having a women/femme-only group? How could this type of organization complement other organizing projects that its participants are engaged in? What would be involved in setting one up?
- 3. What role can men-only discussion groups play in fighting against patriarchy, or working on toxic masculinity? What are some of the issues that could arise with this type of group, and what steps could be taken to avoid them?
- 4. Under patriarchy, women are often burdened with unpaid domestic, or 'reproductive' labour. How does this affect their participation in other organizing projects, and what types of mutual aid networks could be formed in order to help assist their active participation?
- 5. What are some local material issues that people who want to fight against patriarchy could organize around? What are some of the ways that these issues are racialized and/or classed?
