Questions for discussion

1. What is the colonial history of this region? Who occupied these lands before the establishment of the current borders & national government?
2. What does anti-colonial struggle look like in this area? Are there any active anti-colonial struggles going on?
3. What projects are people in this room currently engaged with that could benefit from applying more of an anti-colonial lens? What would this actually look like in practice... aside from just token acknowledgement?
4. What are some of the practical things that non-Indigenous anarchists should know about when working with Indigenous groups, or in Indigenous-led campaigns?
5. What are some ways of demonstrating material support for anti-colonial/national liberation struggles in other parts of the world beyond just protests?
